RE: Roy Tarpley Charge No. 460-2006-04831

Roy Tarpley amends his charge of discrimination filed on July 20th 2006, to include his employer Dallas Basketball Limited d/b/a Dallas Mavericks. Roy Tarpley incorporates by reference all claims and exhibits attached to his charge filed on July 20th, 2006 against the National Basketball Association and his response filed October 10th 2006. Mr. Tarpley amends this complaint due to the fact that the Dallas Mavericks has delegated it's responsibilities as his employer to the National Basketball Association, even though, The National Basketball Association has asserted in Federal Court that it is only "an integrated business enterprise that engages in the production and marketing of entertainment product known as "NBA Basketball". The NBA consists of thirty member teams, each operating a professional basketball team in a particular geographic location in North America." National Basketball Association v. National Basketball Players Association, No. 04 Civ. 9528, United States District Court S.D. NY (2005).

The Dallas Mavericks have designated the National Basketball Association as it's agent to administer discriminatory and arbitrary practices which act to strip Roy Tarpley of his ability to pursue his profession as a professional basketball player on the basis of all allegations incorporated by reference herein. The Dallas Mavericks have furthermore fostered and failed to correct the public perception that Roy Tarpley was terminated from the NBA for the use of an illegal substance.

By contract The Dallas Mavericks also have retained interest in Roy Tarpley's employment once he is reinstated under Section 12 (f)(I) of the Collective Bargaining Agreement, July 29, 2005 and therefore, the Dallas Mavericks continue to be responsible for the discriminatory actions of the National Basketball Association.

Sincerely Joseph W. Walker
